Access to and use of the online resources provided via this site is governed by the terms of usage of the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (RANZCOG). Further, by accessing this site, you agree that the following conditions apply to the content and materials provided.

This site is intended to provide general advice to trainees and practitioners. It should never be relied upon as a substitute for proper assessment with respect to particular circumstances of each case and the needs of each woman.

The information provided via this site is made available as a component of ongoing educational discourse and is not endorsed by RANZCOG. It should not be relied upon for clinical diagnostic purposes or as an indicator of examination requirements.

The information provided via this site has been prepared having regard to general circumstances. It is the responsibility of each trainee and practitioner to have regard to the particular circumstances of each case, and the application of guidelines in each case. In particular, clinical management must always be responsive to the needs of individual women and the particular circumstances of each pregnancy.

The site has been prepared having regard to the information available at the time of its preparation, and each trainee and practitioner must have regard to relevant information, research or material that may have been published or become available subsequently.

RANZCOG takes no responsibility for matters arising from changed circumstances or information or material that may have become available after the date the material was made available and disclaims all liability to users of the information provided.

The contents of chat sessions and discussion forums on this site reflect the views of individual participants only. The RANZCOG bears no responsibility for the accuracy of participant comments and will bear no legal liability for consequences arising from discussion posts.

By accessing this site, you agree to use the online forums and chat rooms made available through it only for lawful purposes and not to post any unlawful, harmful, threatening, abusive, harassing, defamatory, or obscene material of any kind.
